LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

ARE.
YOU.
READY??!!

Our 103rd annual Cedar Falls Bible Conference is right around the corner and I hope I get to see you here! If you're like me, I know we could all use some of the "ordering" that takes place here each summer.

Let me explain...

During our work day back on Saturday, June 1 (when volunteers come out to do clean-up and improvement projects here at Riverview Conference Center), Tim Boettger opened us with a devotion about our God who brings order out of chaos. He reminded us that the work we were about to do on the grounds (weeding, painting, sorting, cleaning, etc) was not only necessary for our ministry to function effectively, but it was a display of the very character of God who brings order out of disorder. The kind of disorder that everything devolves toward over time in this broken world, marred by sin.

When Tim was explaining this, something clicked with me: just like our annual work day helps bring physical order to our facilities and grounds, our annual Bible conference brings spiritual order to our non-physical beings. And, friends, these days when cultural chaos and hostility toward truth is increasing all around us, we'll all benefit from the "ordering" that takes place when we gather with like-minded Christ-followers and spend a week digging into God's Word. For the 103rd time! Wow!

Toward that end, the Lord - through various speakers, musicians, ministry leaders, and an awesome team of volunteers out here - has put together an incredible conference. I hope your taking the time to flip through the schedules and the descriptions in this brochure gets you excited to be here with us!

In addition to looking through all this and planning to be here yourself, would you also pass this information along to neighbors or friends or family members who you know would also be blessed by joining us...to be inspired, challenged, and shaped by God's Word? You can pick up hard-copy brochures at our office to pass around, or share digital versions via our website or social media pages.

See you soon!

Matt Reisetter, CFBC Director since 2018
